Astronaut Flight Is Postponed by U.S. for 8th Time

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A new storm in the western Atlantic today threatened to force a ninth postponement of the orbital flight of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., now very tentatively set for Thursday morning.

Glenn, Marine lieutenant colonel, had hoped to get off on his long-delayed triple whirl about the world this morning, but a heavy overcast drifting over the boiling Atlantic forced Project Mercury officials to put it off until 7:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, at the earliest.

A weather advisory issued shortly before 10 a.m. today by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration made it highly uncertain that the historic flight would go Thursday. It was being freely predicted here that it would probably go over until Friday at the earliest.

Officials won't push the button for Glenn's Atlas to rise skyward until assured that weather conditions in the recovery areas won't be too foul. Otherwise there would be danger that the astronaut and his data-filled capsule would be lost in rough seas.

The NASA weather advisory today said:

New Concord Is Ho-Hum About Delay

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—Another postponement in the man-in-space flight held little surprise for the parents of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr. told of the postponement early today, were not perturbed. Neither was the village, the hometown of the marine lieutenant colonel tabbed for the job of being the first American to orbit the earth three times.

The parents had talked to their son Tuesday night in a telephone conversation. The astronaut had told them that he was fine but that weather conditions would indicate whether or not his flight would go on schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn had planned to watch the scheduled blast-off on television in their home here with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thompson of Cambridge, and their son, Maj. Robert Thompson of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton. Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Thompson are sisters.

The many postponements have not disturbed Mr. and Mrs. Glenn because they have said from time to time that their son has briefed them thoroughly on the many factors, both mechanically and otherwise that could delay and postpone scheduled blast-offs.

They had retired early Tuesday night to watch the firing by television and they learned about the postponement shortly after it was announced at Cape Canaveral.

Injured Youth Reported 'Fair'

HARRY D. McManis, 14, Route 1, Laurelville, suffered severe injuries when the motor scooter he was riding collided with a car at 4:45 p. m. yesterday on State Route 180 near South Perry in Hocking County.

The youth was rushed to Berger Hospital where he was treated for fractures of both legs and severe body lacerations. He was reported in "fair" condition today. Hospital officials said he remained unconscious.

Young McManis is the son of Roy McManis, Route 1, Rockbridge, and Mrs. Gladys McNichols, Route 1, Laurelville.

The driver of the auto was not identified.

"The intense low pressure trough located just east of Bermuda is still active.

"A new storm center is moving off Cape Hatteras, N.C., this morning, and is forecast to be near Bermuda Thursday morning, with strong winds and rough seas covering much of the area to the east and west of Bermuda."

If Glenn completed only one orbit he probably would be brought down about 500 miles east of Bermuda. After two orbits the plans are for him to alight about 500 miles south of Bermuda, and after three orbits, about 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

If the bad weather forecast continues unchanged, the ninth postponement might be announced officially about mid-afternoon today.

The eighth postponement was made known to newsmen shortly after 2 a.m. today.

As soon as the cancellation was determined, O.B. Lloyd, NASA public information director, advised the White House of the delay by telephone.

Glenn was awakened at 2:15 a.m. by his doctor, William K. Douglas, and advised of the postponement. He had gone to bed in his special quarters four miles from the launch pad at 7 p.m. He was scheduled to arise at 2 a.m. for today's 7:30 a.m. launch.

Lt. Col. John H. Powers another NASA spokesman said Glenn accepted the nerve-fraying news calmly and ate what was to have been his pre-launch breakfast.

Powers quoted Glenn as saying: "Well, we knew the weather was forecast to be marginal. So I'm not too surprised. All we can do now is watch the weather. Everything else, including me, is going to be going back to bed and get some rest."

The decision to postpone the flight was made by Walter C. Williams, Project Mercury operations director, after a two-hour weather conference which began at midnight.

This conference drew on information gathered by wide ranging weather planes and from ships stationed in the areas selected for a landing by Glenn, depending on whether he made one, two or three trips around the globe.

Asked how long the launch could be postponed on a day-to-day basis, Powers said: "We can go on this way for four or five days."

Kingston Man Faces Further WU Difficulty

Police at Huntington, W. Va., have taken into custody a former Western Union employee charged with armed robbery of Western Union offices at Huntington and in Athens and Springfield, O.

George Jackson Moore, 22, of Kingston, arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., last week was taken to Huntington yesterday where he reportedly signed statements admitting the robberies.

The former Kingston resident was also involved in an alleged "hoax" last month with his former employers.

Moore, a former Ohio State University accounting student, appeared in Columbus Municipal Court on Jan. 25, on a charge of grand larceny filed by Western Union officials.

WHILE working part-time for Western Union, he attempted to convince company officials of a flaw in their accounting system.

Unable to convince his superiors of the loop hole, Moore set out to prove his point by performing the necessary steps to swindle the company out of $1,000.

After completing the necessary steps of his theory, he mailed the $1,000 check to the New York offices of WU with a note attached proclaiming "it can be done."

A Columbus municipal judge dismissed the case after hearing the circumstances.

Officials were wondering today if the judge will be as lenient if Moore attempts to explain that he was only trying to "prove a point" by showing the company that he could get away with the robberies.

Holmes suffered a minor scalp cut. Others nearby were sprinkled with glass.

RFK Confers with Sukarno, Ducks Indonesian Fried Egg

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy talked some more with President Sukarno about Dutch-held West New Guinea today after ducking a fried egg in the first incident of trouble on his visit to Indonesia.

After his talk with Sukarno, the U.S. attorney general and his wife started on a three-day tour of Indonesian hinterlands, including the fabled island of Bali, in a Soviet-built Ilyushin transport plane.

Kennedy was egged as he mounted the stage to address a student assembly at the University of Indonesia. The cold fried egg sailed out of the crowd. He ducked and the missile plopped behind him.

Three students grabbed the youthful thrower and hustled him out to police. Later a spokesman said the youth was not a student.

Once Around Roundtown

ALL WAS NOT lost in Sunday morning's fire on E. Main St. . . According to Mrs. Geneva Ullman a Catholic prayer book and a protestant prayer book were salvaged during a post-fire inspection. . .

Mrs. Ullman said the books were found underneath a heavy oak counter in the flower shop which was one of three business sites destroyed. . . They carry an odor of smoke but are still readable.

Valentines Get Valentine

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—The stork presented Mr. and Mrs. Thurmond E. Valentine a special Valentine's Day gift today—an 8-pound-5-ounce daughter.

It'll be called "St. Jude's With in the Walls." St. Jude is the patron saint of the forlorn.

Through the Knights of Columbus, religious and fraternal organization, a call has gone out to Catholic men to send in stamps, individually or in books, to implement the project.

"It's a wonderful opportunity," said John Symonds of New York City, state deputy of the K. of C. "I'm quite confident that we can get sufficient stamps within a few months to defray the expense of this chapel."

There are about 1,100 inmates in the prison here, the Eastern State Correctional Institution. Some are mental defectives, serving indeterminate terms. Many are young men, serving three to five years.

At present, Father Killion said, services have to be held in the gymnasium, with a portable altar. About 250 to 300 go to Mass each Sunday.

"It's a very makeshift situation. We're trying to install in these men the values that they should have learned before but didn't, and we need an appropriate setting to attract and inspire them," he said.

"With a chapel, set aside for the worship of God and nothing else, the services should make a far more vivid impression in the lives of our men, and have more lasting effects."

He worked out the stamp idea, obtaining agreements from various concerns that issue trading stamps to redeem them in money, or in building materials, instead of the usual merchandise.

Father Killion figures 65,000 books of stamps of any kind will do the job. They would be worth, in cash, about $130,000.

U2 Pilot Voluntarily Telling Story to U.S.

Pre-Summit Parley Urged

U.S., British Give Views to Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that "much clarifying work" toward disarmament will have to be completed before a summit meeting is possible.

But Kennedy added in a message to the Soviet leader:

"This may be necessary in any case before June 1 when a report is to be filed on the progress achieved."

Kennedy told Khrushchev he does not question the usefulness "or perhaps even the necessity of a meeting of heads of government."

He added: "Indeed, I am quite ready to participate personally at any stage of the conference when it appears that such participation could positively affect the chances of success."

Kennedy referred to the 18-nation disarmament conference scheduled to open in Geneva on March 14.

The U.S. message was delivered to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow today and the British quickly followed with their own answer to Khrushchev's proposal that a summit session of 18 nations start the disarmament negotiations opening in Geneva March 14.

The British proposal was that a summit meeting be held after some progress has been made at a lower level.

The reply from British Prime Minister Macmillan said further that "meetings at the foreign ministers level would be the best instrument for achieving progress at the opening stages" of the Geneva session.

Kennedy said he was gratified to learn that Khrushchev agreed with the U.S.-British conclusion that heads of government should assume personal responsibility for the success of the forthcoming disarmament negotiations. The question, he said, is how to discharge most usefully that responsibility.

In their original proposal to start the negotiations at the foreign minister level, Kennedy and Macmillan had urged that the chiefs of government assume a personal responsibility for directing the course to be followed by their negotiators. They suggested further that it be agreed in advance to keep the negotiators in session until positive results have been achieved.

"I do not believe that the attendance by the heads of government at the outset of an 18-nation conference is the best way to move forward," Kennedy said today.

The President said he agreed with Khrushchev's observation that a better basis exists now than previously for success of the conference, although substantial differences between the East and West linger on.

First Lady Slated To Head TV Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans will be given a personal tour of the White House tonight by the First Lady.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, followed by television cameras of the CBS and NBC networks, will conduct the hour-long tour at 10 p. m.

Purpose of the tour will be to show Americans many of the rooms, paintings, furniture and other objects of presidential memorabilia which have been installed in the executive mansion in the last year.

Idaho Braced For New Floods

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southeastern Idaho braced for more flooding today as damage estimates reached the $5-million mark. Thousands were homeless.

Southern California cleaned up after a devastating six-day rainstorm, which left a sea of mud and debris, property damage estimated by officials at nearly $1.5 million and 26 storm-related deaths.

A body of water 16 miles long and two miles wide—but shallow — was moving slowly toward Blackfoot, Idaho. This was melted snow, augmented by continued rains.

Water was five feet deep in parts of Pocatello, a city of 27,000 in southeastern Idaho.

In northern Nevada, U.S. Highway 40 was washed out near Eko. Tracks of the Western Pacific Railroad were flooded.

At Battle Mountain, Nev. Southern Pacific Railroad officials refused permission to dynamite the line's tracks, claiming that it was U.S. 40 that was backing up Reese River flood waters. Some citizens dynamited the tracks anyway.

When the flooding Big Horn River in north central Wyoming roared down the town of Greybull its 2,286 residents fled to the hills. However, the crest—caused by two ice jams upstream—was held in check by dikes and the refugees returned to their homes Tuesday night.

High water and ice floes threatened to rip out a bridge across the Green River between Green River, Wyo., and the Flaming Gorge dam construction town of Dutch John in northeastern Utah.

Dem Senator Joins Walker On Sidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., bowed out today from participation in the conservative Young Americans for Freedom anti-Communist rally scheduled for March 7 in New York.

At the same time it was disclosed that Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., was the prime mover in the organization's withdrawal of an invitation to resigned Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker to address a meeting billed as a "conservative rally for world liberation from communism."

Dodd, who had been designated to receive an award, wrote Donald B. Shaft, head of YAF, that he didn't want to be "the only publicly identifiable Democrat in a rather large group of Republicans" at the session.

Dodd said he had expected to attend "a non-partisan meeting for the purpose of honoring a diverse group of Americans for contributions to freedom and anti-communism."

Instead, he said, "the meeting has come to represent in the minds of many a partisan gathering with extremist coloration which seeks to claim some exclusive relationship with the anti-Communist movement."

Goldwater, a member of the YAF advisory board, was reported to have notified the organization he could not appear on the same platform with Walker since the latter had announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas.

Kennedy Calls Him Free Agent

Probers, Press To Get Interview Chance Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers is cooperating voluntarily with government interviewers and eventually will be free to testify to congressional committees and appear at a news conference.

Kennedy opened a news conference with a statement on the case of Powers, who was freed by the Russians Saturday in exchange for U.S. release of Soviet spy Rudolf Abel.

The President declined to say how Powers was brought down while flying a high-altitude U.S. reconnaissance photo plane over Russia on May 1, 1960. He said an answer must await the end of questioning by appropriate government authorities.

In his opening statement, the President said he knew there have been many questions about the release of Abel and of Powers.

He said he is happy Powers is back and that he can add only that Powers is cooperating voluntarily with the government in discussions of important information.

Powers will be free to testify to Congress after the official interrogation and will be made available to the press "at the earliest possible moment," the President promised. There have been numerous demands in Congress for committee interrogation of the pilot.

The President was asked what Powers' status would be after the quizzing. Kennedy said Powers would be a free agent, able to carry on any activity he chose.

Powers and his high-altitude U2 reconnaissance plane crashed 1,200 miles inside Russia. Powers was seized, tried on espionage charges, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

After months of secret negotiations, he was exchanged for Abel, a Soviet master spy who was convicted in 1957 of stealing U.S. military and atomic secrets and given a 30-year prison sentence. The trade took place Saturday in the center of a bridge dividing West Berlin from Communist East Germany shortly after dawn.

A cloak of secrecy promptly was thrown around Powers. He was rushed by plane to the United States for a reunion with his wife and parents and questioning by American authorities, apparently at a hideout on the eastern shore of Maryland.

A second major topic of the day came up second at the Kennedy session with newsmen.

This was the forthcoming disarmament conference in Geneva starting March 14. Kennedy said that "of course I would be glad to go" if his personal presence would help bring some forward movement.

In that case, he said, every head of state would be pleased to sit in on a summit conference.

This was much the same position he took in a formal message to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, released an hour and a half before the news conference.

Answering a question on a related matter, Kennedy said at one point that he thought any arms agreement with Russia would have to include Red China, and the rest of the world if it were to have any value.

In response to another question, Kennedy said he had no idea what neutralist countries, particularly India, might do about sending representatives to a summit meeting next month as suggested by Khrushchev.

These other matters came up in the news conference: NUCLEAR—A reporter quoted British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan as saying that there will be no nuclear testing on Christmas Island until the Geneva conference begins. Kennedy said that statement is correct and that the recent correspondence with Khrushchev has not changed it.

AUTOMATION — Kennedy said it is true 25,000 new jobs must be found each week and "this places a major burden on our economy and our society."

If our economy is moving forward, we can absorb such numbers, he said, although there may be special problems in such industries as coal.

He said a "major domestic challenge in the sixties" is maintaining (Continued on Page 2)

11 in Dope Ring Given Stiff Penalty

NEW YORK (AP) — Pledging "no mercy from the courts," a federal judge Tuesday sentenced 11 members of an international narcotics ring to prison for from 5 to 25 years for smuggling $150 million worth of dope into this country.

In the case of three other men alleged to have been members of the ring, Judge William B. Herlands set bail of $350,000 each.

The 11 men sentenced were convicted Dec. 27 after a two-month trial. The heaviest sentence, 25 years, was given Charles Shiffman, 59, described in court as "one of the main sources of supply for narcotics in Chicago."

Others sentenced were Joseph Valachi, Robert Gippone and Matthew Palmieri, 20 years each; Charles Tandler, Anthony Porceli, Michael Maiello, Vito Agueci and Luigi Lo Bue, 15 years each; Rocco Scopelliti, 10 years; and Filippo Cattone, 5 years.

The huge bail was required of Frank Caruso, 50; Salvatore Maneri, 49, and Vincent Mauro, 45. They were recently returned from Spain after fleeing to avoid trial and forfeiting a total of $110,000 bail. No date for their trial on the narcotics charges was set.

Two other defendants were slain by mobsters before the trial.

The ring was alleged by the government to have imported heroin over a 10-year period, and the arrests thwarted plans to expand the operation half again as much. The smugglers often concealed heroin in blankets brought over by innocent immigrant Italians.

taining employment while automation goes on.

A reporter said 13,000 workers in a Long Island aircraft plant faced layoffs. Did the President believe more strenuous efforts to solve such problems would be appropriate? he asked.

Kennedy said the White House was very conscious of the problem at the plant—although, he added, that the reporter had overstated the number likely to be left jobless.

The President said the government would do what it could to minimize the impact but some layoffs would be inevitable.

ROCKEFELLER—Asked about New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's expressed estimate that the United States suffered a diplomatic failure at the Punta del Este conference of hemisphere nations, Kennedy disagreed.

He said all the countries found that Cuba under its Communist regime should not be considered part of the hemisphere system. He said there were differences among the countries as to the best way to contain the Communist threat, but that he is encouraged by what he called unanimity on the basic issue.

CIA—The President was told some Congress members were complaining that budget items for the Central Intelligence Agency were hidden in other portions of the budget.

Kennedy replied that some concealment was necessary in the interest of national security.

VIET NAM — In response to questions about the extent of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, Kennedy reviewed agreements or providing assistance to Viet Nam and other states of former Indo China. He said that while the Geneva agreement for the area was not signed by the United States, this country served notice it would take a serious view of renewed aggression in the area. This was reaffirmed later, he said, and the United States has been helping Viet Nam maintain its independence with a military training mission, and economic aid.

Since the quickening pace of the guerrilla war, "We have increased our assistance," he said. "We are supplying transportation, logistic assistance and training."

As to Republican criticism that he has not been wholly frank, Kennedy said the support and assistance activities in Viet Nam were discussed with the Republican leaders of Congress as well as the Democratic leadership. All, he said, agreed with the stand taken by the administration in support of its declared policies.

The President said he felt there had been a "very strong bipartisan consensus up to now, and voiced hope that it would continue."

CENSORSHIP — Kennedy was asked why such phrases as "victorious" and "beat the Communists" were deleted by Pentagon censors from speeches of admirals and generals.

Kennedy said he was not familiar with cases involving these particular phrases, but that the general policy of review for conformance to national policy stands.

Kennedy said he would not contend that there had not been some instances of mistakes or bad judgment among all the reviews of speeches, but that he would defend the integrity and good intentions of the people doing the work.

POSTAL RATES — The President said he hoped the postal rate bill would be soon taken up by both the House and the Senate. When this is finished, he said, that would be the time to consider wage increases for postal employees.

RESERVISTS — The President said he could not now give a date for the release of the military reservists called up because of the Berlin crisis. The crisis continues, he said, and the need for the reservists will continue until the two proposed new divisions of the regular Army are formed, or until the Berlin crisis eases significantly.

Toward its end, the news conference harked back to nuclear matters and cold war attitudes.

Is his policy a "no-win" policy? Kennedy was asked.

He said if it should come to a nuclear war, there would be no winners.

Also on the nuclear subject, a reporter said it has been thought the Soviets might persuade the Red Chinese to agree to any arrangement on nuclear arms control that might be reached, but that now their powers of persuasion seem limited as to the Chinese.

Kennedy commented that it would obviously not protect security if a large country were progressing with nuclear testing and development.

He said he realizes the difficulty of bringing the Red Chinese in on any agreement, but that this is something that must be faced at some point if an arrangement is reached.

10-Cent Theft Brings Penalty To Collegian

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Theft of a 10-cent ice cream bar resulted in a $50 fine and a jail sentence for an Oberlin college freshman, David M. Stigler, 20, of "Loss-moor, Ill.

Municipal Court Judge David R. Goldthorpe sentenced Stigler and a second student Tuesday in a crackdown on shoplifting.

The judge sentenced Stigler to 30 days in jail but suspended 25 days of the sentence and allowed the student to serve his time at night, meaning he spends 10 nights in jail.

For stealing a textbook Darryl R. Stromberg, 20, a junior from Long Beach, N.Y., was sentenced to 30 days and fined $100. Twenty days of that sentence were suspended, and Stromberg will serve his time over a period of 20 nights.

In addition, the two are to appear later this week before the college's Men's Board, according to Thomas Bechtel, dean of men. Bechtel said the board can invoke penalties, including possible suspension.

Vanderbilt 'Skeleton' Is Uncovered

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—Renovators cleaning the ceiling of the "gold room" in the mansion of old-time railroad tycoon Frederick W. Vanderbilt stumbled across a "family skeleton," half a century old.

It is a 20-by-30-foot mural showing a group of gay bare-breasted women in diaphanous Grecian skirts gathered about an elderly man, who has his head in his hands.

Caretakers there since shortly after the mansion was built in 1891 recall that when Vanderbilt had the mural executed his wife objected.

The railroad tycoon, son of railroad empire builder Cornelius Vanderbilt, gave in to Mrs. Vanderbilt's objections and had the mural painted over.

In 1940, Margaret Louise Van Allen, a Vanderbilt niece turned the big marble mansion over to the federal government, which made it a national historical site. More than a million tourists have visited the ornate mansion.

Now the U.S. Interior Department has the problem of deciding whether to cover the mural again.

Rural Group Seeks Bridge Across Creek

A delegation of six persons from Saltcreek Twp. appeared before the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners yesterday to request erection of a bridge across Moccasin Creek near the Pickaway-Hocking County line.

The delegation, headed by Township Trustees Don Strous and Fred DeLong, pointed out that persons using Moccasin Road crossing the creek are required to ford the stream. No bridge has ever been erected at the site commissioners said.

A final solution to the problem does not appear immediate. The board, already faced with contemplated construction of a new bridge to replace the old covered structure near Ashville, suggested that a satisfactory ford be erected at the side on a temporary basis.

The visiting Saltcreek group said about 15 persons living in the area are affected by the present faulty crossing. Normal depth of the creek is about one foot.

HOWEVER, spokesmen pointed out that depth is deeper during and after heavy rains. They said in the past banks along the creek have washed away, making crossings even more hazardous.

The county engineer was authorized to set an estimate of cost for improving fording facilities. Work on the crossing will probably get under way in the near future, according to the commission.

Stock Prices Are Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held to a narrowly irregular pattern in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was down 10 at 261.20 with industrials down 70, rails up 10 and utilities up 40.

Changes of key issues continued to be only fractions for the most part.

Steels were mostly lower as industry negotiations for a new labor contract began with a generally hopeful tone. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem eased, while Jones & Laughlin advanced slightly.

Mail order and retail firms showed little reaction to news of a decline in personal income for January. Woolworth eased, but Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward edged ahead fractionally.

'Spirit of '76' Group Revived

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Committee for Ohio Schools is back in business—this time seeking to preserve the "Spirit of '76."

The law provides that public school students must receive basic instruction in Americanism before they can be taught about communism.

About 25 persons representing the Ohio Information Committee, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and other veteran's and women's groups met in Columbus Tuesday and elected officers. They are the same officers as in 1955.

A Canton man, Paul B. Belden, is chairman, Wayne J. Graf of Columbus is treasurer, and Fred J. Milligan, also of Columbus, is secretary-counsel.

Milligan said the group reorganized because dissatisfaction with the law's provisions about instruction of communism has been expressed by some educators and school board members in Akron.

AFL-CIO Plans Campaign To Sign Voters

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top labor union political leader said today the AFL-CIO will staff a "crash" registration drive in an effort to elect an additional 30 union-backed House members to Congress this fall.

Al Barkan, deputy director of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, or COPE as it is called, said "we just don't have the votes" now to get union sponsored legislation through Congress.

Barkan outlined plans for organized labor's 1962 political campaign at a citizenship conference sponsored by the International Union of Electrical Workers.

He said COPE will concentrate on voting precincts that were won by a narrow margin in the 1960 election. He said COPE helped win the 1960 election for President Kennedy by its registration and get-out-the-vote drives.

He said help will go to Sen. John Carroll, D-Colo., and to opponents of Sens. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., Homer Capehart, R-Ind., and Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.

West Ohio Airline Needs To Be Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board announced plans today for a broad investigation of proposed changes in air service in central Indiana, western Ohio and southern Michigan.

Five issues will be considered during the inquiry, which represents a consolidation of a variety of route changes proposed to the board during the last seven months. The issues are:

Possible addition by either Lake Central Airlines or North Central Airlines of a new route between Indianapolis and Detroit via Muncie-Anderson-New Castle, Ind., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Lima and Toledo, Ohio.

Possible elimination of Delta Airlines' authority to serve Fort Wayne, or the possible limitation of such service to long-haul flights.

The date for beginning the investigation will be announced later.

At his new post he will be producing live telecasts of children's dramas and 90-minute specials.

ENOCH is a graduate of Ohio University, majoring in dramatic art and speech. He has done graduate work at Ohio State University in theater and TV production. He became interested in TV production while serving as director of the Mitchell Players at Long Island, N. Y.

He is to assume his new duties on March 1.

AMA Plans Loans for Young Medics

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association announced today a medical education loan program that would advance students up to $10,000 over a seven year period and defer the payment-due dates until they are ready to start practicing.

The loan program is designed to assist needy students at any stage of their medical education—from the start of their first year of medical school to physicians in residency and training.

The loans, to be offered at 5 1/2 per cent simple interest, will be guaranteed against default by the AMA Education and Research Foundation. Guarantee funds will be solicited from physicians and other private sources.

The AMA announcement said the loans will be available to multi-time students in good academic standing who are United States citizens, providing they attend a medical school approved by the AMA's Council on Medical Education or are in residency or internship training in a hospital approved by the council. Applications can be made sometime after March 1.

Under the plan, borrowers will be limited to 1,500 plus interest in any single 12-month period and a $10,000 total in seven years. Borrowers may not be indebted for more than $15,000 for educational purposes from all sources.

Cuyahoga Falls Fears Water Is Polluted

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Fearing the possible contamination of wells which furnish water to Cuyahoga Falls, the mayor of that city has asked Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for help in controlling pollution in the Cuyahoga River.

Mayor David L. Sanders told the governor in a letter Tuesday: "For some time, we have been concerned about the substantial amounts of untreated or partially-treated sewage that is being discharged in the Cuyahoga River upstream from our municipally-owned well field."

He said the city of Stow is discharging 840,000 gallons a day of almost wholly untreated sewage into the river, within about 300 yards of the well field.

"The Sonoco paper mill in Munroe Falls is daily discharging 250,000 gallons of sulfide wastes and the city of Kent is discharging 1,200,000 gallons per day—a portion of which is raw sewage and the balance of which has had a primary treatment only," the mayor wrote.

The mayor said a substantial portion of the water in the deep wells comes from the river.

Mayor Sanders said he is appointing a six-man committee of citizens to try to find a solution to the pollution problem.

James H. Ross, named chairman of the committee, said he will try to secure enforcement of state laws against river pollution.

Sheriff Slated To Get New Car

The Pickaway County Board of Commissioners yesterday authorized the purchase of a new car for Sheriff Walton W. Spangler.

The sheriff's present car, a 1959 Buick, will be traded for another Buick. The auto currently in use has registered about 78,000 miles during more than three years of service.

Commissioners said they feel it will be cheaper to obtain a new vehicle rather than pay a considerable amount for needed repairs. The new car, equipped with some special police gear, will be purchased from the Yates Motor Co., S. Court St.

WARD'S ROYAL BLUE SUPER MARKET 166 W. Main St.

Overstocked Stockpile

President Kennedy was "astonished" to learn that the National stockpile of strategic materials is worth $7.7 billion. For years Senator Byrd's joint Committee for reduction of non-essential expenditures has been issuing quarterly reports on the stockpile.

But the stockpile, says President Kennedy, is almost twice as big as necessary. And he suggested a presidential investigation.

It should be noted, however, that a big part of the surplus was created by the stroke of a pen. Back in 1946, when Congress authorized such stockpiling, the policy was to be prepared for a five-year war by holding a reserve of materials which would be in short supply under wartime conditions.

When this policy was reviewed in 1957, it was decided that preparation for a three-year war was sufficient. Now Mr. Kennedy suggests that a stockpile of about $4.3 billion is all the country needs — for a three-year war. Multiply that by five-thirds and you get about $7.2 billion, only a half billion less than has actually been stockpiled.

The problem now, however, is how to get rid of about $3.4 billion worth of stuff—mostly metals, but including such items as agar, asbestos, castor oil, diamond dies, feathers and down, opium, quinine rubber and talc —without causing market disruption and the "unconscionable profits" feared by the President.

The first step is to get Congress to authorize the divestiture. Congress has been asked on occasion to authorize the sale of some 50 items from the stockpile, and it has turned down 49 of the requests. Perhaps after investigation of the whole matter Senator Byrd will receive more respectful attention.

There's no sense in keeping more of these materials than the nation needs. If Congress agrees, the government can keep speculation to a minimum by moving slowly explaining fully and frankly in advance just what it intends to do and when. This is important to avoid harm to domestic and to world markets.

The Sending of Valentines

There may be more than a trace of irony in the fact that the present day habit of exchanging love tokens on St. Valentine's Day has a direct association with martyrdom.

St. Valentine was a Christian martyr of the third century and as such there was nothing known about him that would have precipitated such a tradition as is celebrated annually on Feb. 14.

While his name has become synonymous with affairs of the heart, actually St. Valentine must give way to a much more prosaic origin of the celebration. A belief held throughout Europe in the Middle Ages was that birds began to mate Feb. 14—hence the love interest associated with the day which also had been set aside to honor the Christian martyr.

Frequent references to the day being sacred to lovers is made in English literature. Some of those who do not accept the bird-mating theory think the association of lovers with St. Valentine grew from the saint's name. They explain that "Glatin's Day," with the "g" frequently pronounced as "v," led to confusion with Valentine.

Other's say the lover's custom is a Christianized version of the Roman feast of the Lupercalia. Then names of young men and girls were drawn from a box with the Roman becoming the girl's gallant for the next year. Originally the youths paired by drawings by custom exchanged presents. Later only the boys gave gifts. Still later the sending of Valentines began.

Who Will Do Common Labor?

By George Sokolsky

Every once in a while a letter comes my way which is well-written and well-conceived and that asks a question about our way of life that cannot quite be answered. Such a letter came to me from Miller Clearwater, retired, who lives up in Wappingers Falls. Clearwater used to run a garage and did repairs and was apparently a very useful citizen. He asks:

"I sometimes wonder what we are going to do in the future with so much stress put on college degrees; none of the younger generation learning to repair such things as automobiles or blacksmith work such as making a spring and tempering it. . . . Sure education is wonderful in any way you take it. But someone has to do the thousands of other things that it takes to run a nation. And all are not Paul Revere or Benjamin Franklin who could turn their hands to anything."

If the law of supply and demand were permitted to function without interference, what is needed most would come to be. Maybe then fewer would go to college where many discover how to attend without learning too much. As it is, college graduates are not having too easy a time because there are not too many jobs for unskilled workers. Lots of college girls, for instance, try to be what are called secretaries only to discover that spelling is absolutely necessary and that the boss does seek someone who can look something up.

The reason that the mechanic is not sought after is that folks buy things ready made and mechanics charge too much to repair things. It seems cheaper to throw a thing away. Nevertheless, there is always a Mr. Fix-It around who can turn his hand to this or that. The so-called handyman in city apartments is no longer the jack-of-all-trades that he used to be. Usually he can repair this or that rather poorly and when a big job needs to be done, he calls in a skilled worker who charges the union scale. It becomes cheaper to call in the skilled worker.

In recent years, all sorts of do-it-yourself packets have appeared in hardware and drug stores. Many men paint and paper their own walls. But it has to be fun to be attractive, and lots of useful efforts are not fun. Washing dishes, for instance, is never fun and families buy machines and detergents to do that job, while mother smokes a cigarette and reads a magazine on how to improve life.

The point of it all is that hard work has become unattractive in an era when the machines do the work and are easy to get.

I fear that Miller Clearwater wants to set the clock back and make it hard for folks again. The trend is in the other direction. Ultimately what is called automation will do all the work and the laborer will be paid for looking on. In fact, more and more of the hard work of the world is being done by machines while the worker has become a watcher of the machine to make sure that it does not break down. With population increases everywhere, why is it so hard to get all kinds of workers? In fact, one might ask, with so many young people going to colleges, why is there a shortage

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A WEALTHY NEW YORKER, recuperating from a severe nervous ailment, visited a tiny town on the north Jamaican Coast that bears the romantic name of Runaway Bay. Here he took rooms in a lovely old plantation house, presided over by the genteel descendant of the original builder.

On the first night of his visit, the New Yorker was walking down the dark passage to his sleeping quarters when a shadowy form suddenly appeared before him, whispered frantically, "Save me! Save me!"—then promptly disappeared.

The New Yorker fled back to the drawing room and told his hostess what had happened. "This is no place for a man with my nerves," he quavered. "Don't be silly," laughed the hostess. "You've had a rare bit of luck I'd say. You've met my great-grandmother Clara. She rarely pops up these days. She was murdered in that passageway in 1839."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear Doctor: Tests show that I have a sluggish thyroid gland. Will I have to have an operation?

Mrs. W.R. (Miss.)

Dear Mrs. R.: No. You'll simply have to take thyroid pills.

An operation could only remove part of the gland, leaving you with less thyroid and more trouble.

Dear Doctor: No medicine seems to help my psoriasis, although one put me to sleep. What should I take?

Mrs. C. R. (N.C.)

Dear Mrs. R.: A trip to the nearest skin specialist! He doesn't know the cause and cure, but he can suggest ointments that help such as 2 per cent salicylic acid in hydrophilic ointment USP.

A soft, soapy brush can peel away loose scales while you sing in the shower.

Dear Doctor: My mother was hospitalized when she was critically ill. Shortly after a barium enema X-ray, she lapsed into coma with her stomach bloated.

Just how bad is a barium enema?

Mrs. I.S. (Texas)

Dear Mrs. S.: Properly done it is completely safe, although not too comfortable. The barium shows up on X-ray pictures to help uncover hidden cancer and many other troubles.

It's hard to believe that a barium enema pushed your mother over the brink.

Dear Doctor: I'm 60. Why should walking make my leg feel like pins and needles?

Mr. J. T. (Calif)

Dear Mr. T.: Perhaps working leg muscles are swallowing up all the available oxygen and narrowing blood vessels can't supply enough for nerves — which tingle and sting.

Medicines — including a wee nip if custom permits — help narrowed arteries relax and widen.

Let your doctor decide whether something else is irritating these nerves into sharp pins and needles.

Dear Doctor: Three years after my stomach was removed because of ulcers, doctors discovered I had tuberculosis. Could there be any connection?

Mr. B. G. (Ohio)

Dear Mr. G.: Yes.

Tuberculosis and ulcers often go together. The physical and psychological stress of coughing, hard breathing and chronic lung trouble can irritate anyone's insides into an ulcer.

Office Feuds Are Necessary

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"We're a team—just one big happy family," many a business president brags in his annual report to the stockholders.

It might be more truthful if he had changed an adjective and described his organization as "one big scrappy family."

While fringe benefits—such as piped-in music and automatic pencil sharpeners—are slowly turning the average office into an eight-hour-a-day utopia, all is not yet sweetness and light among the employees in these commercial Edens.

It doesn't take much to turn hired hands against hired hands in the cramped confines of the ordinary business firm. Here are a few feuds you'll probably find typical of those in your own office:

The senior vice president is hated by all the other vice presidents because he has wall-to-wall carpeting—and they don't.

Miss Esmerelda Primp, 25 years behind the same typewriter, nurses a secret grudge against

Peter Picayune, the personnel chief, because in 1937, her first year on the job, he sent a valentine to every other girl in the office—and forgot her.

Although once pals, Jack and Charlie in the shipping department have worked silently side by side without speaking to each other since 1948. They fell out over the question of whose turn it was to buy coffee and doughnuts during a coffee break.

Jasper Quill, the bookkeeper and office tightwad, is miffed at Axel Gripper, the handyman, because in 1951 Axel talked him into buying a nickel church raffle ticket. Jasper didn't win, and is sure he was sabotaged.

Winnie Winsome, the bleached blonde stenographer, has a peeve against the two junior executives who give her a lot of sweet talk but never take her out to dinner or the theater. "Those creeps remind me of NATO—no action, talk only," she tells the other girls.

The other girls dislike Winnie because, when they ask her to go with them to a concert, she replies, "Not me. Mozart isn't the man I'm looking for. Besides, I'm too young to enjoy hen parties."

Elmer Clause, the union shop steward, is mad at all management because he hasn't had a merit raise in 12 years. At each office yuletide party he has to be forcibly restrained from stabbing the executives with the Christmas tree.

J. Larimer Lofty, the boss, is angry at the janitor for leaving the lights burning overnight during the Easter holidays in 1949; angry at Elmer Clause for his latest union demand, a reclining electric vibrating chair; for the room, and angry at the whole staff for wanting 40 hours pay for 14 actual hours of work a week.

"Just one big happy family?" Why, it's that good old Cain-versus-Abel atmosphere that lends zest to office living.

If the employees had to give up their feuds, they'd all resign in a huff. The office would be too downright bring.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Posting of marriage banns by American corporations is increasing. It usually does when general business activity rises. But today's changing business pressures account for much of the new vigor in the already long postwar trend.

The Federal Trade Commission puts mergers in 1961 at 1,234 up 222 from 1960 when business was slipping, and 334 more than in another recession period, 1958. A generally bullish stock market helped increase merger ardor last year. This always makes it easier to consummate a corporate marriage by the exchange of stocks.

But this year some of the merger proposals have been in industries fallen on hard times, without much relief so far from the rise in general prosperity. Examples are the railroads and the airlines.

Many Eastern railroads have gone through a spell of red-ink bookkeeping. They look on mergers as a way to cut costly competition, to save money by ending duplication of services and facilities and by pooling equipment and maintenance, and to use the savings to get much needed new rolling stock.

The airlines' hard times were brought on by a sharp increase in competition as route extensions were granted in recent years, and then by going in hook to get the speedy jets that fly many more passenger miles—without benefit of enough more passengers to fill the seats.

Red ink often adds enchantment to a corporate courtship because of our tax laws. When a company running at a loss is bought up by a prospering one, the buyer can use the tax loss credits to reduce its own tax liability. This makes its reported net earnings much bigger. On a bullish stock market that can be quite an item.

But prospering small companies also are prizes in the marriage market. Sometimes they are bought up to get an outstanding management team, and sometimes because their fast selling products would round out the buyer's line. Or they may have well-developed marketing channels the buying company can get cheaper by merging than by competing.

Often a union is sought because management believes one can live cheaper than two. That is, the surviving company can thus cut costs or deaden competition, use facilities to the maximum instead of part time, save man hours in factories and offices, end duplication in distribution and selling.

In today's business setting, however, the urge to merge may be simply because size itself means economy. Often the fastest way to grow is to unite two or more companies rather than striving to expand against competition or to start up new divisions. The larger company can command more bank credit which it needs if it's to grow.

The newly big corporation also can afford the expensive automation which plays an ever growing part in cutting costs, in keeping up with the giants in the field, in providing products and services customers demand.

And there's also the efficiency of an integrated company that buys up suppliers on the one hand and sales outlets on the other.

A much newer reason for merging is on the horizon. That's the need to be stronger to compete with fast growing industrial rivals in Japan and in a prospering and uniting Western Europe. To this end some of today's mergers are by American companies buying into foreign firms for production or sales outlets.

Auto Industry Roars Down Prosperity Road

NEW YORK (AP)—The automobile industry is barreling along the prosperity road at high speed. And, if the pace is maintained, it can sweep much of the economy along with it.

Economic well-being in the industry is contagious. It spreads directly to makers of steel rubber, glass, fabrics and many other manufacturers.

And heavy buying of cars shows that the consumers are well heeled and that their purchases will lap over into the entire retail field.

Sales of new passenger cars in January totaled 485,962, compared with 368,900 in January 1961. The total was the best for the month since 490,000 were sold in January 1957.

General Motors grabbed 54.8 per cent of the market with sales of 266,290 cars. Ford accounted for 28.6 per cent with 138,758; Chrysler 9.9 per cent with 48,204; American Motors, 5.5 per cent with 26,937 and Studebaker-Packard 1.2 per cent with 5,900.

Only Studebaker-Packard sales showed a decline from January 1961. Its production had been shut down for six weeks by a strike of the United Auto Workers Union. The strike was settled Thursday.

Dealers are optimistic about the outlook for the balance of the year. A survey by C.I.T. Credit Corp. at the National Automobile Dealers Association convention in

Akron Man Saved From Execution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—James L. Long's death sentence for first-degree murder of an Akron tavern owner has been commuted to life imprisonment.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced the commutation Monday, saying the Summit County prosecutor, sheriff Common Pleas Court judge and the Pardon and Parole Commission had recommended clemency.

Long, 24, of Akron had been scheduled to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair next Friday for the murder of John Proccacio during a hold up last May 8. Long was the driver of the car used in the crime.

dedicated a belief that 6.5 million cars will be sold this year.

With an inventory of nearly one million cars in dealers' hands, production during the week was shaved to an estimated 128,000 from 138,409 the previous week.

Chrysler Corp. reported it made a profit of $11.1 million in 1961. The No. 3 automaker earned $31.6 million in the final quarter, erasing a $20.5 million loss in the first three quarters. Earnings in 1960 totaled 32.2 million.

Business as a whole took heart from the decision of the United Steelworkers Union and steel producers to begin negotiations in a new contract next Wednesday.

This earliest date in history was agreed upon under pressure from President Kennedy. The current contract expires June 20.

The union let it be known that its greatest concern in reaching a contract agreement will be job security, which it will seek to attain by a shorter work week and longer vacations.

Steel production during the week reached the highest level in 22 months with some extra buying attributed to hedging against a possible strike. Output totaled 2,446,000 tons, 2.3 per cent above the previous week.

A vast new vista for investment opened up when President Kennedy asked Congress to set up a profit-making communications satellite corporation.

A federally chartered corporation would own and operate the U.S. portion of an international system in which space satellites would be used to transmit commercial telephone, telegraph, television and other communications. An individual could buy a share at not less than $1,000.

Also in the investment realm, the stock market carried through a good rally that began last week with blue chip issues leading the way.

Stock sales for the week totaled 18,853,855 shares compared with 18,716,130 the previous week and 23,272,220 for the comparable 1961 week. Bond sales totaled $28,770,000 par value, down from the previous week's $32,135,000 and the comparable week last year.

The Commerce Department reported business sales in 1961 increased by $8.4 billion to a record 738.9 billion. However, sales of $67.3 billion in December dropped behind the November level by $310 million.

A leading economist, Dr. Marcus Nadler, professor of finance at New York University, told a conference of the American Bankers Association that the present economic climate requires caution. He said the outlook is clouded by uncertainties over war, whether the Cuban revolution can be kept under control in Latin America, whether a break between the right and left in France can be mended, and the effect of the European Economic Community.

If you want your skillet-fried onions to be limp, cook them in butter or margarine until they're golden brown, then cover the skillet a steam them until they're very soft. Use onion rings or thin onion strips for this dish.

You can cut down the time you'll have to stir a white sauce if you scald the milk needed before adding it to the hot butter and flour mixture.

Shelpmans Host Social Fete after CHS Dance

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shelpman, Walnut Creek Pike, were hosts for a social hour and buffet in their home following the Sweetheart Dance at Circleville High School Saturday evening.

Invited guests for the delightful affair were ten couples who are friends of their son, Junior Shelpman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maddux and family of Mt. Sterling and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and family were Sunday guests of Mr. George Graham and daughter, Dorothy.

Mrs. Bernice Himbaugh and son, Quentin, of Madison, spent Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nance.

The Derby WSCS meeting will be held Thursday afternoon at the home of the Misses Nell, Hazel and Sara Ridgeway.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill and family of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Graham and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Graham and son, of Derby, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Lucille Graham.

We were glad to hear Mrs. Elinor Brown is off the sick list and was able to return to her duties at the school on Monday. However Mrs. Nelle Bauhan, also ill with the flu, is still confined to her home though she is reported as feeling some better.

Members of Derby extend sympathy to Mr. Miles Kahler and family on the death of his father, Mr. Carl Kahler, of Ada, O., the past week.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is hip-deep in dilemmas but, compared with some of the other top men's difficulties, he is operating in an atmosphere almost as calm as his own rocking chair.

The President, while struggling with a decision on resuming nuclear tests, is trying to write an adroit answer rejecting Premier Khrushchev's call for an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament. He can't afford to brush off the summit proposal lightly since any embarrassment to Khrushchev would ruin his present agreeableness; he can't let Khrushchev have a propaganda edge; and he must leave the door open to a summit meeting later.

That's a big order. But at home the President is getting only a little criticism from the Republicans, most busy criticizing themselves, and practically none from his own Democrats. It's different with Khrushchev.

He doesn't have that kind of domestic quietness while trying to concentrate on out-maneuvering Kennedy abroad. He has had to wrestle with his Red Chinese allies and even Russian Stalinists who won't buy his soft sell on communism.

Even Kennedy's two biggest allies, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle, are in trouble at home and abroad.

Macmillan, working with Kennedy on dealing with Khrushchev, has been under sharp criticism in Britain. De Gaulle, trying to bring peace to Algeria in Africa faces the possibility of civil war at home between left and right.

There are some solid reasons for Kennedy's not dashing off to a summit meeting, just because Khrushchev wants one next month.

Kennedy, like President Eisenhower before him, takes the position that before the top men go to all the trouble of meeting their representatives ought to iron out most of the details.

In the first place, if 18 heads of state went to Geneva March 14 they'd waste days just making speeches before they got down to business at all. That would be inevitable.

In the second place, an international audience such as Khrushchev has in mind would give him a chance to perform. It's not unfair to think that's exactly what he'd do, just as he did when he went to the United Nations.

Ohio Liquor Consumption Drops Half-Pint in Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans drank nearly a half pint per person less liquor last year than in 1960 and spent nearly $1 less per capita, state Auditor James A. Rhodes said Tuesday.

Rhodes said the averages dropped from 9.29 pints in 1960 to 8.75. Purchases in state stores and sales to wholesalers dipped more than 100,000 gallons to 10,873,134, the auditor said.

In the third place, the only thing that counts is the big powers' earnestness—or lack of it—in wanting to reach a disarmament agreement. In the more than 16 years since the war they haven't done it.

If they are earnest now, they can instruct their regular negotiators to get down to cases. If the earnestness is demonstrated but the negotiators bog down, Kennedy, Khrushchev and others can have a summit to settle the deal.

Turnpike Notes Freeway Effects

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some westerly sections of the Ohio Turnpike handled about 19 per cent less traffic last year because of competition from a new interstate freeway.

The Turnpike Commission disclosed in its annual report Monday that fewer vehicles used the toll road between the Ohio-Indiana line and the Toledo area because of the opening of Interstate 94 westward from Detroit across Southern Michigan.

Turnpike restaurant and service station sales also were affected adversely, the commission said.

The annual report noted, however, toll and concession revenues were higher because of additional traffic to and from the turnpike from Interstate 71, the Columbus-Cleveland freeway.

Kenny Aides Plead Innocent

Mail Fraud Trials
Face 7 Persons

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Six of seven persons formerly associated with the Sister Kenny Fund pleaded innocent Tuesday to an indictment containing 15 counts of mail fraud and one of conspiracy when they were arraigned in U.S. District Court.

The seventh defendant, Marvin L. Kline, former foundation director, was not in court and his attorney said he was "ill and in utter collapse."

The seven men were charged with misusing funds contributed by the public for the charitable group's rehabilitation work.

Judge Gunnar Nordbye tentatively set Feb. 23 for Kline's appearance. He accepted a suggestion from the U.S. District attorney that a doctor be appointed to examine Kline.

Nordbye gave the defendants 30 days to file motions and all six were released on $2,500 bond each. Dist. Atty. Miles Lord said he would not move for a trial date until the time for filing of motions has expired.

The defendants, indicted Jan. Jan. 30 by a federal grand jury, are in addition to Kline: Fred Fadell, 53, Minneapolis, former Kenny publicity agent;

J. George Zimmerman, 50, St. Paul accountant who audited Kenny books and whose license has since been revoked by the state; Abraham L. Koolish, 77, and his son, David, 42, alleged owners of four Chicago firms that distributed foundation mail solicitations from 1952 to 1960; and John B. Cornell, 50, and Philip G. Rettig, Chicago, former presidents of New Century Corp., one of the Koolish firms.

The grand jury accused Kline and Fadell of awarding contracts to the Chicago firms in return for kickbacks and gifts totaling some $360,000.

Plastic-Paper House Planned by Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—A Florida company detailed plans today to build low cost, pre-fabricated houses using a new machine-made, plastic-paper honey-combed panel faced with aluminum for the walls.

Henry Dubbin, chairman of Canaveral International Corp. of Miami Beach, said the homes would "answer the housing needs of the bulk of the people of the world." He called the new panel the lightest and strongest building material for its weight.

The houses will be built by Aluminum Housing Corp., formed by Canaveral International and Honeycomb Products, Inc. of Mount Vernon, Ohio. The first will be built late this year at Canaveral Groves, west of Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The six models will cost from about $5,500 to $12,500.

Burns and Channing Slated To Replace Burns and Allen

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Burns and Channing is the name of George Burns' 52nd act.

If it's as successful as his 51st, he'll be a lucky man indeed.

His last act was Burns and Allen. It broke up after 35 years because Gracie didn't want to play any more.

After three years as a single, George is joining forces with blonde, big-eyed Carol Channing. They'll play a number of dates this summer, including the World's Fair at Seattle.

Putnam Farm Wife Wins Bread Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winning contests sort of runs in the family for Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Samsal of Columbus Grove, Ohio—even if it was a long time between winners.

Nearly half a century ago Samsal, who runs a 125-acre farm near Columbus Grove, won the Ohio corn growing contest for raising 96 bushels to an acre.

Today, Mrs. Samsal is in Washington as winner of the Ohio Farmers Union wheat bread baking contest.

"I'm pretty happy," she said, about winning the contest that made possible her trip to see the sights in the capital, visit members of Congress and confer with Agriculture Department officials.

Mrs. Samsal and her husband still live on the Putnam County farm where they began farming in 1917. She is secretary of the County Farmers Union.

All three of the Samsals' sons are also farmers, and two of their three daughters married farmers. The elder Samsals have 14 grand-children.

Mrs. Samsal's winning recipe—which she got out of the Farmers Union Magazine—is a mixture of whole wheat flour, sorghum molasses, melted lard, sealed milk and salt.

Hines Takes Job At Ashville Bank

Orlan Hines of Ashville has been employed by the Board of Directors of the Ashville Banking Co. His employment will begin Feb. 15.

Hines previously was employed by the Kenny Hannan Ford Agency in Circleville. Before that he had served as acting head postmaster at the Ashville Post Office.

Hines, married to the former Iona Wollam, has three sons, Robert, 10, John, 8, and William, 5. He is a graduate of Ashville High School, class of 1941.

Anti-Hoffa Unionists Demand 'Some Answers'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four groups of union workers who left the Teamsters Union want Common Pleas Court to force a suit by the international union until union chief James Hoffa answers some questions.

The four asked court deferment Tuesday, saying they need Hoffa's replies on his money dealings with some truck firms in order to frame their defense against a Teamster suit.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A low pressure system and cold front moved rapidly eastward through Ohio Tuesday night, creating a wide variety of weather from mild temperatures and scattered thunderstorms to freezing rain, sleet and snow.

Temperatures rose into the 40s during the night, but dropped after the cold front passage. Winds reached 40 to 50 miles per hour during the night and will continue strong today, especially over the northeastern half.

Some early morning temperatures today ranged from 31 at Toledo to 43 at Chesapeake.

Cleveland and Columbus had 33 and Cincinnati 26.

Considerable clearing is forecast by this afternoon, but more rain seems likely by tonight and Thursday as another low pressure system approaches.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average four to seven degrees above normal. Normal high 35, normal low 20. A little warmer Thursday, cooler Friday. Precipitation will average about one-fourth inch in rain Thursday or Friday and again about Sunday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average two to six degrees above normal. Normal high 21-26, normal low 24-28. Minor daily temperature changes. Precipitation will average about one-fourth inch in rain Thursday and again on weekend.

Cleveland Attorney Forfeits Ohio License

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland attorney Charles M. Goodwin has forfeited his license to practice law rather than face charges of unprofessional conduct brought by the Cleveland Bar Association.

The Ohio Supreme Court accepted his resignation Tuesday and ordered the attorney for 14 years to refrain from practicing law in any form. The nature of the charges were not disclosed.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Santiago de Cuba's deficient city bus service may be bolstered soon by 20 Soviet-made buses, Radio Havana says. The Cuban broadcast, monitored here, said 20 buses arrived Monday from the Soviet Union. The announcement said the buses were driven through the city "amid the applause of the people who were appreciative of this new help of the friendly Socialist countries."

Kenny Aides Plead Innocent

Mail Fraud Trials
Face 7 Persons

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Six of seven persons formerly associated with the Sister Kenny Fund pleaded innocent Tuesday to an indictment containing 15 counts of mail fraud and one of conspiracy when they were arraigned in U.S. District Court.

The seventh defendant, Marvin L. Kline, former foundation director, was not in court and his attorney said he was "ill and in utter collapse."

The seven men were charged with misusing funds contributed by the public for the charitable group's rehabilitation work. Judge Gunnar Nordbye tentatively set Feb. 23 for Kline's appearance. He accepted a suggestion from the U.S. District attorney that a doctor be appointed to examine Kline.

Nordbye gave the defendants 30 days to file motions and all six were released on $2,500 bond each. Dist. Atty. Miles Lord said he would not move for a trial date until the time for filing of motions has expired.

The defendants, indicted Jan. 30 by a federal grand jury, are, in addition to Kline:

Fred Fadell, 53, Minneapolis, former Kenny publicity agent; J. George Zimmerman, 50, St. Paul, accountant who audited Kenny books and whose license has since been revoked by the state; Abraham L. Koolish, 77, and his son, David, 42, alleged owners of four Chicago firms that distributed foundation mail solicitations from 1952 to 1960; and John B. Carnell, 50, and Philip G. Rettig, Chicago, former presidents of New Century Corp., one of the Koolish firms.

The grand jury accused Kline and Fadell of awarding contracts to the Chicago firms in return for kickbacks and gifts totaling some $360,000.

Plastic-Paper House Planned by Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—A Florida company detailed plans today to build low cost, pre-fabricated houses using a new machine-made, plastic-paper honey-combed panel faced with aluminum for the walls.

Henry Dubbin, chairman of Canaveral International Corp. of Miami Beach, said the homes would "answer the housing needs of the bulk of the people of the world." He called the new panel the lightest and strongest building material for its weight.

The houses will be built by Aluminum Housing Corp., formed by Canaveral International and Honeycomb Products, Inc. of Mount Vernon, Ohio. The first will be built late this year at Canaveral Groves, west of Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The six models will cost from about $5,500 to $12,500.

Burns and Channing Slated To Replace Burns and Allen

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Burns and Channing is the name of George Burns' 52nd act.

If it's as successful as his 51st, he'll be a lucky man indeed.

His last act was Burns and Allen. It broke up after 35 years because Gracie didn't want to play any more.

After three years as a single, George is joining forces with blonde, big-eyed Carol Channing. They'll play a number of dates this summer, including the World's Fair at Seattle.

Putnam Farm Wife Wins Bread Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winning contests sort of runs in the family for Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Samsal of Columbus Grove, Ohio—even if it was a long time between winners.

Nearly half a century ago Samsal, who runs a 125-acre farm near Columbus Grove, won the Ohio corn growing contest for raising 96 bushels to an acre.

Today, Mrs. Samsal is in Washington as winner of the Ohio Farmers Union wheat bread baking contest.

"I'm pretty happy," she said, about winning the contest that made possible her trip to see the sights in the capital, visit members of Congress and confer with Agriculture Department officials.

Mrs. Samsal and her husband still live on the Putnam County farm where they began farming in 1917. She is secretary of the County Farmers Union.

All three of the Samsals' sons are also farmers, and two of their three daughters married farmers. The elder Samsals have 14 grandchildren.

Mrs. Samsal's winning recipe—which she got out of the Farmers Union Magazine—is a mixture of whole wheat flour, sorghum molasses, melted lard, sealed milk and salt.

Hines Takes Job At Ashville Bank

Orlan Hines of Ashville has been employed by the Board of Directors of the Ashville Banking Co. His employment will begin Feb. 15.

Hines previously was employed by the Kenny Hannan Ford Agency in Circleville. Before that he had served as acting head postmaster at the Ashville Post Office.

Hines, married to the former Iona Wollam, has three sons, Robert, 10, John, 8, and William, 5. He is a graduate of Ashville High School, class of 1941.

The four asked court deferment Tuesday, saying they need Hoffa's replies on his money dealings with some truck firms in order to frame their defense against a Teamster suit.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Don't Walk — Run!

DEAR ABBY: I could write a book about what I've been through these past three years, but what good would it do? We've been married 29 years. I am, loyal to my husband and I know he has been the same to me. Yet he has accused me of infidelities with the janitor, the plumber or any other man who comes to the house on business. When we walk down the street I have to keep my eyes on the ground or else I am "flirting" with every man I pass. I have to take a bath with the lights out because my "shadow" might be seen from the outside. I am so nervous I am ready for an institution. Should I see a doctor?

DEAR NERVOUS: By all means see a doctor and take your husband with you. From your description of him, he needs a doctor worse than you. His behavior is far from normal. Make an appointment for TWO without delay.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem boy named Gilbert. I like him very much but I know he doesn't

Bondsman Is Next On List of Trials

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — James Matash, professional bondsman from Warren, is to be tried next in connection with the city's multi-million-dollar sewer project scandal.

Trumbull County Prosecutor Lynn B. Griffith Jr. made the announcement Monday but did not mention a trial date.

Matash, one of seven indicted after a probe of the sewer project, is accused of conspiring with former Warren councilmen Raymond J. Little, Jack Flask and John Janosik in soliciting and attempting to collect a bribe from Jack Durig, Warren contractor for one phase of the project. He also is charged with trying to influence a grand jury witness.

Five persons have been convicted in the scandal to date.

Fighting Tennessean

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Occupying a place of honor in the home of State Atty. Gen. George McCannless is an unsigned portrait of a Civil War veteran who never talked about his experiences.

Hints of Jake Donelson's little-known war record appear in an almost illegible note attached to the portrait.

"Jake Donelson, Co. H, 3rd Tennessee Regiment, C.S.A.

"Enlisted at Camp Cheatham, May 1861. Captured at Fort Donelson, Feb. 16, 1862. Prisoner seven months and two days at Camp Douglas, Chicago. Died at Cornersville, Tenn., 1864. Buried with military honors."

Jake Donelson of the Confederate Army was a Tennessean rooster.

care a thing about me. He comes over and we make out, but he tells me not to take it to heart because he only kisses me because he needs the practice for the real thing when the right girl comes along. I try to stay away from him but I can't do it because I really like him a lot. Can you help me?

DEAR HELPLESS: No one can help a girl who refuses to help herself. Your only hope is to gather your willpower and refuse to have anything more to do with him. Practice makes perfect, but this kind of "practice" is making a fool of you.

DEAR ABBY: Two months ago we buried a very close relative. We received many baskets and bouquets of flowers. The cards were left on the flowers, so I picked them up and gave them to one of the daughters. This caused a lot of trouble. I was told I should have left the cards ON the flowers. I want to know, was I wrong in taking the cards off the flowers or should I have left them on?

RIGHT OR WRONG
DEAR RIGHT: You were wrong. After the services are over, the funeral parlor furnishes the family with a list of people who have sent flowers. The cards should have been left on the flowers.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

4½ Tons Chocolate

Pay Medical Bills

ST. CLAIR SHORES, Mich. (AP) — It took 9,000 pounds of assorted chocolates, but the medical bills for Karen Dodge are paid.

Karen, 2, was scalded two days before Christmas when she pulled a coffee pot off the kitchen stove. Her father, Herbert Dodge, a teacher at Brownell Junior High School in Grosse Pointe, had let his hospitalization insurance lapse.

Karen needed blood transfusions, round-the-clock nursing and skin grafts. Students and teachers at Brownell went from door to door selling chocolates—9,000 boxes.

The profits came to $3,700. Student committees went to doctors, the hospitals, the laboratories Monday paying the bills.

Gangster's Son Is Held as Bandit

CHICAGO (AP)—Roger Touhy, 36, son of prohibition era gangster Roger Touhy, has been charged with a $3,100 grocery store robbery Jan. 26 on Chicago's South Side.

Touhy was arrested Monday after the store manager and a stockboy picked his photograph from police files. He was identified under the name of Roger S. Turner but told police he is the slain gangster's son.

Detectives said Touhy, who lives in nearby Yorkville, and another man pulled the pickup. Touhy is on three years federal probation for illegally cashing money orders.

Red Paper Reports about Love and Injustice

MOSCOW (AP)—The Literary Gazette tells in lurid detail the story of the Russian police chief who tried to break up his daughter's romance by caning her and framing her sweetheart.

Vera Borisova is the daughter of the police chief in Sochi, Premier Khrushchev's favorite Black Sea vacation spot. She loved Anatoli Ledyayev, apparently an ordinary boy without big-time party connections.

When the chief's caning of his daughter didn't work, he staged a series of accidents which landed Anatoli in jail.

One day Anatoli and Vera were standing alone in a street when an unknown man came up and abused her, provoking Anatoli to defend her.

At that point four militiamen, apparently assigned by Chief Borisov, appeared, beat up Anatoli and hauled him off to the house of drunks, although he was sober.

He was released in an hour, but as he stepped from the house of drunks a gang of toughs pounced on him. Anatoli was arrested again, and this time sat three months in jail awaiting trial on a charge of provoking a fight.

Each day Anatoli was in jail,

Vera would stand outside waiting. Meantime, the father continually beat her with his bamboo cane.

When Anatoli's trial came up, Vera testified and Anatoli was released. But immediately the case was reopened and a new trial ordered.

Vera, however, was banished to an insane asylum by her father but was released after psychiatrists found nothing wrong. Vera came home and prepared to testify for Anatoli again.

This time, though, her father sent her off to the faraway Baltic.

Vera made her way back and testified, but the militiamen trumped up new evidence and Anatoli was sentenced to a year in a labor camp.

The case was appealed to Premier Khrushchev but he received reports from friends of Vera's father that everything was in order.

Vera persisted, got friends interested and finally a Literary Gazette reporter looked into it.

He wrote the story over half a page of the newspaper and called it a sordid miscarriage of justice since nobody but Anatoli and the girl have been punished.

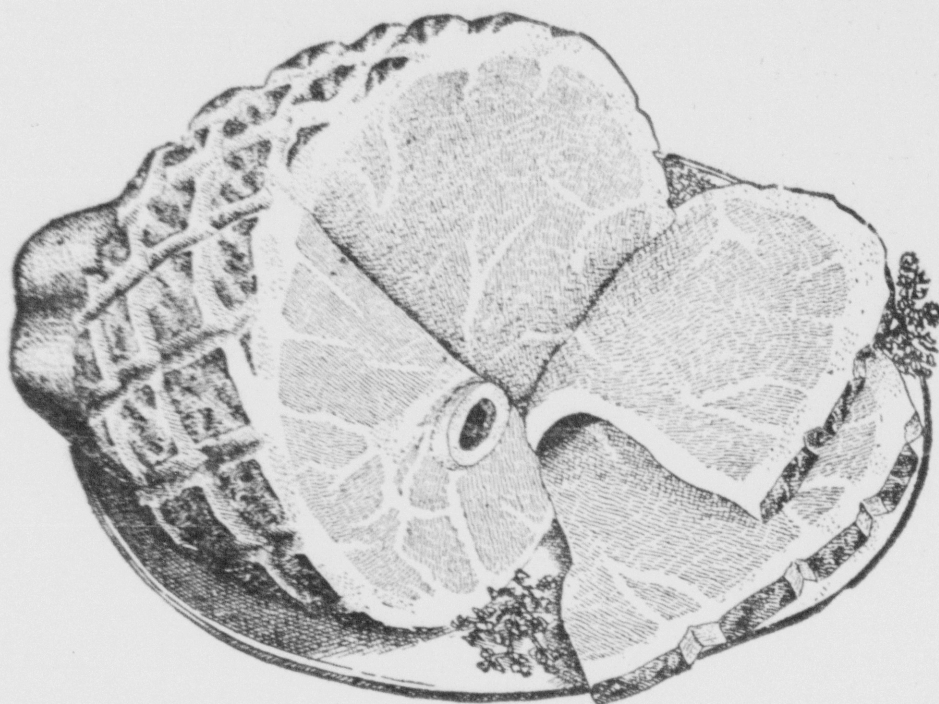

The father, the paper pointed out, was still the police chief of Sochi and the others involved were still going about their jobs.

But usually when a Soviet newspaper decides to print accounts of such cases, things begin to happen. Literary Gazette predicted it would be that way this time, too.

A Greek healer, Asclepius, turned the city of Epidaurus into the biggest medical and faith-healing center in Greece. His weapons against disease were herbs, surgery, autohypnosis, faith healing and a type of psychoanalysis.

Kent Is Defeated In Mid-Am Contest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gangling Nate Thurmond and sophomore flash Howie Komives carried Bowling Green past a stubborn Kent State team Tuesday night, and the Falcons are mighty close to the Mid-American Conference basketball championship and an NCAA tournament berth.

Bowling Green turned back the cellar-dwelling Golden Flashes, 82-70, and got a helping hand as fast-improving Marshall dealt challenging Ohio University a stinging setback, 77-72.

Bowling Green now stands 9-1 in the MAC and has at least a share of the title in hand should Toledo (4-2) fall at Western Michigan tonight. Third-place Ohio U. is all but out of it now at 5-3.

Thurmond pulled down 23 rebounds, his high for the season, and scored 17 points against Kent. Komives drilled in 34 points.

In the Mid-Ohio League, Ashland moved a halfgame ahead of idle Ohio Northern in the title chase. The Eagles won 91-81 at Findlay.

In other Ohio college games Tuesday night:

Capital pulled away from a halftime tie to beat Otterbein 66-54 in the Ohio Conference; John Dunkle led a Western Reserve record of 44 points as the Redcats beat Wooster 91-76; WRU's neighbor, Case, got 31 points from Dave Paul and beat Fern 87-73 as five Foxes fouled out; Wilmington defeated Cedarville 86-76 in the Mid-Ohio; Oakland City (Ind.) used starters only the first half in walloping Wilberforce 100-67; and Lawrence Tech (Mich.) beat Rio Grande 79-61 as John Bradley and Jerry Wnuk outscored the Rio team between them.

Jockey King Now 55 and A Millionaire

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Big game hunter, trout fisherman, a fair golfer and a shrewd investor. That's John Longden today on his 55th birthday.

The hobbies of this millionaire jockey—the winningest and possibly the wealthiest rider of all time—don't set him apart from some other rich men.

Longden, with 5,573 winners to his credit, still rides almost daily. True, he averages 3 to 4 mounts instead of the 6 or 8 he used to ride. It's true, too, that he sleeps an extra hour in the morning.

"I'm up and out at 6 o'clock now," Longden said. "I spend an hour or so in the sweat box as I take off 1 to 3 pounds every riding day."

His winners have brought their owners $21 million. As the jockey, he gets 10 per cent.

Johnny, who rides these days at 114 pounds, eats a breakfast of eggs, dry toast and cereal. He skips lunch, then treats himself to steak or a roast at supper.

He's a regular at West Coast tracks. This doesn't give him much free time.

"I have to just take off when I want a rest or vacation," Johnny said. "In the fall I go to British Columbia for big game hunting and in the spring I go fishing at Crowley Lake in the high Sierra."

Does Longden ever expect to retire?

"Gosh no," said Mr. Moneybags. "I'm not worried about that."

Proper Attire Rule
Raises Some Eyebrows

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Women entering the City Association's first annual bowling tournament were taken aback over a rule on proper attire.

Defining proper clothing the rule said: "nothing above the knee will be permitted."

Tournament officials explained

Teays Valley Earns Crown In Tourney

The Teays Valley Teachers reigned as champs of the March of Dimes Faculty cage tournament held at Ashville after defeating the Circleville instructors, 78-61 Westfall captured the consolation crown by trouncing Logan Elm, 92-64.

A capacity crowd watched Ned Reichelderfer dunk in 30 markers to lead all scoring for the night as the Westfall team chopped down Logan Elm. Glenn Chester and Paul Hoskins contributed 25 points each to help account for most of the point output of the Westfall Faculty.

Vic Pontius, 24, John Henn, 18, and Cecil (Champ) Sowers 12, were the big guns for Logan Elm. In the championship bout Teays Valley last year's winners, experienced little difficulty in coping their second straight title. Bill Salisbury, 18, Russ Gregg, 17, and Benis Lutz, 10, provided the scoring punch needed to down the Roundtown teachers.

Austrian Girl Skier Seeks 2nd Medal

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — Marianne Jahn, winner of the women's giant slalom in the World Alpine Ski Games last Sunday, goes after her second gold medal in the special slalom today.

Among her chief competitors are Barbara Ferries of Houghton, Mammoth Lake, Calif. Miss Jahn is from Austria.

The races, billed as the World Ski Games, originally were slated as 1962 World Championships but were downgraded because the East Germans failed to obtain travel permits and could not enter.

Americans had varying success in the men's special slalom race won by Charles Bozon of France Tuesday. Billy Kidd, an 18-year-old newcomer from Stowe, Vt., was eighth and Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., finished 12th.

Bud Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Charles Ferries of Houghton, Mich.,—the two U.S. favorites—were in third and fourth places after the first run but were disqualified in the second run.

Werner fell twice and missed three gates on his second run.

81-Year-Old Composer Dies Aboard Ship at Sea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arthur Bergh, 81, composer, died Sunday after a heart attack aboard the SS President Cleveland en route to Honolulu.

Bergh, who wrote more than 400 musical compositions, was first violinist for the New York Symphony Orchestra and the Metropolitan Opera House from 1903 to 1908.

5 of 8 Teams In SW League Vie for Title

Texas Tech's Crown Jolted by SMU; A&M, Rice, TCU Also Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They could call the Southwest Conference the leapfrog league of college basketball.

The standings are scrambled with virtually every game, and heading into the final third of the conference schedule five of the eight clubs must be considered definite title contenders and still another a definite possibility.

Tuesday night, for instance, defending champion Texas Tech appeared a good bet to lengthen its Southwest lead in a home court game against Southern Methodist—but instead got whacked by the Mustangs 68-63.

Texas A&M's Aggies trimmed Texas 54-48, Rice beat Arkansas 63-55, and Texas Christian clipped Baylor 80-66 in a meeting between the conference's two bottom clubs. The results left Tech, SMU and Texas A&M tied at the top with 6-3 records, Rice next at 5-4, Texas at 4-4 Arkansas 4-5, TCU 3-5, and Baylor 4.

SMU, loser at home to Tech earlier this season, led the Red Raiders by as many as 11 points, but for the most part it was a close one. Jan Loudermilk was high for the Mustangs with 15 points, while Mac Percival had 24 for Tech.

In another tight conference race, Duke's seventh-ranked Blue Devils (16-3) took back first place in the Atlantic Coast with a 79-53 runaway at Maryland. Duke now has a 9-2 conference mark to 8-2 for Wake Forest—with a meeting between the two coming up Thursday night at the Deacons' court.

Tom Wynne's two free throws with 25 seconds to go in the second overtime period enabled St. Joseph's (Pa.) to maintain its unbeaten record in the Middle Atlantic conference with an 80-79 victory over Gettysburg.

Bowling Green (17-2) pushed closer to the Mid-American Conference title by knocking off Kent State 82-70. Howie Komives scored 34 points for the 10th ranked Falcons, while Nate Thurmond controlled the backboards with 23 rebounds.

Connecticut continued its longstanding home-court domination over Massachusetts and tightened up the Yankee Conference, whipping the Redmen 72-56 Massachusetts, still without a victory at Connecticut since '36, is first in the league at 9-2 with two games left, while Connecticut is 5-2 with three to go.

In the upset department Rhode Island stopped Providence 71-61, ending the Friars' winning streak at 10, and Marquette surprised Detroit 73-66.

Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable has only one horse on the grounds at Hialeah in Florida this winter. He is a colt named Dead Ahead. He's a half-brother to Bald Eagle.

NCAA-AAU Breach Filled By Meetings

CHICAGO (AP) — The breach between the NCAA and AAU doesn't appear to be closing although it is being filled up with meetings.

Official organization of federations in track and field and gymnastics will come at March 4-5 meetings in Chicago, Walt Myers, NCAA executive director, announced Tuesday.

A basketball federation already has been launched.

A prompt move forward for organizing federations in track and field and gymnastics was endorsed Tuesday by forces of the NCAA and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. The association is represented in every state except Texas.

The action, coming a day after a peace parley between leaders of the NCAA and AAU ended in failure, was interpreted as additional NCAA pressure in its battle over control of U.S. amateur athletics and for international recognition.

The AAU is recognized as the nation's international representative, setting policy and exercising jurisdiction. The NCAA feels the AAU has done a poor job and has initiated formation of federations.

Tiger Cagers Set For Two Contests

The Circleville cage squad tangles with Greenfield Friday night and Wilmington Saturday in a week end home stand.

In previous meetings this year the Tigers downed Greenfield, 78-52, and lost to the Wilmington quintet, 80-51.

Jack Weikert's squad will be out to score an upset victory over the league leading Wilmington group. The Hurricane cagers are undefeated in SCO play.

Kansas City Quintet Heads for 2nd Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Kansas City Steers, first half champions of the Am-r-can Basketball League, seem to be well on the way to the second half Western Division title.

They made it 5 straight and 12 of 16 by beating the Chicago Majors 97-91 Tuesday night. The San Francisco Saints, who only a few weeks ago topped the Western Division with a 7-0 mark, ended a 5-game losing streak in the other scheduled league game. The Saints whipped the New York Tapers 129-120.

Purdue's Terry Dischinger is the third highest basketball scorer in Big Ten history.

Celtic Supremacy Is Unchallenged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

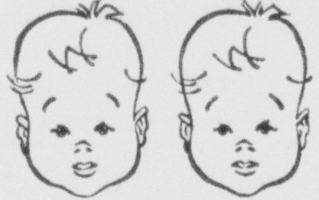

The Boston Celtics don't scare easily and their Eastern Division supremacy seems virtually assured for another National Basketball Association season.

The Philadelphia Warriors had crept to within 5½ games of the Celtics over the weekend and if Boston was due to fade, this was the time. But the Celtics won Tuesday night and the Warriors lost, and Boston's first place lead over Philadelphia was back to 6½ games.

The Celts crushed the Chicago Packers 138-117 in Providence while the Royals were walloping the Warriors 152-132 in Cincinnati despite Wilt Chamberlain's 65 points. No other games were played.

Navel Hernia

A doctor book recommends taping children who have navel hernias but my physician says no tape is needed. Which is right?

A. Taping is recommended in most medical textbooks but when put to test the procedure seems unnecessary. A Swedish doctor compared the healing of hernias among taped and non-taped babies with small and medium-sized navel hernias. The hernias of the untaped babies healed just as quickly and completely as those of the babies who were taped.

Q. I am 40-plus and have had a navel hernia about 10 years. Would surgery help or is it too late?

A. It's never too late. Most navel hernias in babies clear up without surgery. Not so in adults. Your hernia won't get better so take your doctor's advice and have it attended to.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

Our primary function is to provide prescription and related health services of the highest quality.

Minnesota Twins To Be 'Stronger'

By SAM MELE
BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — I'm looking forward

Havlicek: Big Man with Big Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Big John (Hondo) Havlicek is a man with an unusual problem. He doesn't know whether to play professional basketball, football or baseball when his college days are over.

Havlicek, in case you haven't heard, is a rugged 6-foot-5, 205-pound forward on Ohio State's unbeaten basketball team.

He's the muscular fellow who sometimes is referred to as the "Buckeye" No. 2 gun, having played in the shadow of All-America Jerry Lucas the last three years.

In basketball parlance, he's the congenial, good-natured college kid who came to play. And fans who have seen Mr. Havlicek in action are convinced he is a magnificent athlete.

A senior from Lansing, Ohio, Havlicek won all-state honors in basketball, football and baseball while at Bridgeport High School.

He crashed Ohio State's starting lineup in an opening game three seasons ago and has been at home ever since.

Here's a sample of what some of the men who know say about him:

Coach Fred Taylor—"A great inspirational leader. If an All-

America team represents the five best players in the country, if then Havlicek has to be among that select five."

Assistant Coach Frank Truitt—"He's a perfect example of what hard work, determination and ability will produce."

Athletic Director Richard C. Larkins—"One of the greatest all-around athletes that ever came to Ohio State."

Apparently the Cleveland Browns are sold on the unusually graceful and well-coordinated young man. The Browns made Havlicek their seventh round draft selection last December despite the fact he has played no collegiate football.

Unlike the incomparable Lucas, who insists he wants no part of pro ball, Havlicek has an ear cocked for lucrative offers.

"I'm not sure what I'll do but I plan to look into every opportunity," Hondo, as he is affectionately called by his teammates, says.

"Frankly, I prefer basketball, and would like to play in the National Basketball Association. I'm not interested in any of the new leagues."

Havlicek, a physical education major who plans to go into coaching when his playing days are over, admits he was surprised when drafted by the Browns.

"It's been a long time since I played football (he was a quarterback in high school) but if they're interested in me the least I can do is accept a trial."

How about baseball?

"I just don't know," Havlicek confides. "I didn't do too well last year, but I know I can do better."

A first baseman, Havlicek throws hard and has pitched a little.

The statistics, although impressive, do not disclose Hondo's offensive and defense prowess.

Game after game, Havlicek draws the unenviable task of guarding the opponent's top scorer, yet he has never fouled out of a game in three seasons.

Recently, he and Lucas teamed to limit Purdue's All-America Terry Dischinger to a career low of nine points.

Havlicek is runnerup to Lucas in most departments but in Ohio State's 19 victories he has garnered 334 points on an amazing 56 per cent shooting average. That's hitting close to 18 points a game.

He's also pulled down 181 rebounds and committed only 37 personals.

Big John has a theory on how to protect against Lucas even though he smiles when he suggests it.

"Don't let him get the ball, because once he does, there isn't much you can do about it."

HIS AIM: 17 FEET—Marine Corporal John Uelses, who is the first to reach 16 feet in the pole vault, shows off the controversial fiber glass pole (below) as he adds the service touch (top) at Quantico, Va. Uelses, 24-year-old German-born whose home is in Miami, has a new aim now—17 feet.

Vern Law Is Key To Pirate Future

By DANNY MURTAUGH
WOODLYN, Pa. (AP) — Vern Law is the key to our pennant hopes. Our chief weakness last year was not having a capable replacement for him. Naturally when you lose a 20-game winner, it's got to hurt.

If Law's arm is sound again, we'll be right up there with the contenders. We have so many strong clubs in the National League that it is impossible to select the one which should be favored. I've always considered the defending champion the team to beat, so Cincinnati will be the target.

The rest of our pitching staff shapes up pretty well. Bob Friend is a mainstay. So is Eloy Face in the bullpen. Joe Gibbon should be a star pitcher and Al McBean showed me a fine arm last summer. Tom Sturdivant knows how to pitch and I figure he'll be a big help.

Out strong points are up the middle. In Bill Mazeroski and Dick Groat we still have one of the best double play combinations in the league. We have one of the Bill Virdon. There is also the batting champion Roberto Clemente in right field, Dick Stuart at first base and Don Hoak at third.

We don't expect Bob Skinner, our left fielder, to have two bad years in a row. The same applies to Groat. They were two of our outstanding players when we won the championship two years ago.

We're bringing a couple of young catchers to spring training to back up our regular, Smokey Burgess. They are Gary Rushing, the most valuable player in the Sally League in '61, and Elmo Plaskett.

I'm planning one major change and that's using Harvey Haddix exclusively as a relief pitcher.

Basically, we have the same club as last year. The improvement will have to come from better years for the players we had last season.

I don't want to predict where the Pirates will finish, but we have high hopes this year will be a more interesting one for Pittsburgh fans.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-6111

The Ashville PTA will meet 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the school auditorium. Ashville Boy Scout Troop 159 will present a short program, consisting of the flag ceremony, devotions and presentation of their Boy Scout awards.

The main speaker will be Mrs. Russell Moore of Worthington, a vice president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. She will discuss the needs of a PTA.

A short business meeting will be held following the address. The public is invited to hear Mrs. Moore, an outstanding speaker in her field.

The Girl Scouts will be calling from Feb. 16-26 taking orders for their famous cookies.

The Annual Girl Scout Cookie sale is the only major project in which all the Girl Scouts in the Ohio Refold Council have an opportunity to contribute to the support of their own program.

Profits from the sale are used to improve and maintain local Girl Scout camps — two established, seven Day Camp Sites and six Troop Camp Sites — which provide camping opportunities to over 13,000 girls in Pickaway, Delaware, Fayette, Franklin, Madison, Pickaway and Union Counties.

The cookies are in five varieties. Delivery and payment will be from March 23 to April 2. Serving as special sales chairman from this area are Mrs. Thomas Purcell and Mrs. William Trimble.

Boys and girls of the Ashville Community have been invited to participate in a Junior Bowling League at Prairie Lanes in Circleville at 9:30 Saturday morning. Those interested in joining may call Mrs. William Sherman, YU-3-5872. Transportation will be provided.

The following ambulance runs were made this past week by the Bastian Funeral Home: Saturday, Feb. 10 Transported Mrs. Benis Lutz to Riverside Methodist Hospital and Sunday Feb. 11 took Hazel Linbloom, 171 N. Long St., to LAFB Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Benis Lutz are parents of a daughter born 7:30 a. m. Sunday in Riverside Methodist Hospital, Columbus. The baby, born premature, weighed three pounds. Both mother and baby are reported in "fair" condition.

Mrs. Lutz's mother, Mrs. Donald Hatfield of San Diego, Calif., arrived Monday morning to care for her daughter. Lutz is principal at Ashville High School.

The Ashville senior Class will hold a Bake Sale Saturday morning at Bastian's Coffee Shop.

Troop 638 of the Ashville Girl Scouts met Feb. 6 in the home of the president, Sue Courtwright. The Girl Scouts recited the Girl Scout Laws and Promise.

The name of Jill Butt was drawn by the troop to be representative to participate in the Thinking Day Program scheduled the latter part of February.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The First English Lutheran Church Junior and Senior Leaguers have planned an outing for next Sunday evening at the Columbus Jewish Center. They are to meet at the church at 4 p. m. They will arrive at the center in time for swimming at 5 and then they will bowl from 6 to 8 p. m. The Methodist and EUB Youth have been invited. Parents will be needed for drivers.

Elizabeth Alison Gruenberg, infant daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Gruenberg, received the Sacrament of Holy Baptism Sunday morning in the First English Lutheran Church. Sponsors for the baby were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gruenberg Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. George Bauman Jr. (in absentia).

The final home game of the season and probably the last high school basketball game to be played at Ashville High School was viewed by a packed house Friday evening of parents students, and alumni when Ashville met Johnathon Alder. Standing room only was available for the Homecoming game and festivities.

Many alumni memories drifted back. Many thrilling games have been played in the gym at Ashville through the years.

Many fine athletes and coaches started their careers on the Ashville floor. Ashville has always been known for its fine sportsmanship.

With the progress of time the school district will begin this fall with a new and larger location known as Teay's Valley High.

The gymnasium of the new school will seat 2,028. The seating capacity is 320 in the present Ashville gym.

The question has been asked "will this hold the many loyal basketball fans from the school district — Ashville, Walnut and Scioto?" Time will tell.

The Homecoming Queen, Sandy Stover, and her court was presented during the halftime of the reserve game. Her attendants were Kathy Stout, Patty Bartholomew, Diana Richard and Marcia Cook.

Bob Kuhlwein served as master of ceremonies at the halftime festivities. Escorting the queen were Dick Hollenback and Tom Ratliff. Escorting Miss Stout was Gary Bainter and Jim Rathbun; escorting Miss Bartholomew was Dan Hollenback and Sonny Roof; escorting Miss Richard was Chuck Miller and Paul Hartley; and escorting Miss Cook was Bob Kuhlwein and Bill Pritchard. The cheerleaders presented the queen with a large bouquet of roses and corsages to members of her court.

The queen, due to laryngitis, was unable to give her acceptance speech but gave out with a radiant smile instead. It is hoped by the coach that her two escorts are not subject to laryngitis. Each gave her a traditional kiss.

A Homecoming Dance followed the game. The Ashville Alma Mater, "The Orange and Black" was never sung louder. Fans knew this was the last official time.

Following the Homecoming Game Friday night, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Messick of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Romaine Wilson of Circleville and Coach and Mrs. Russell Gregg were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal Jr. All were former classmates at Ashville High School.

THE SOPHOMORE class of Ashville High School is sponsoring a "Spring Dance" Saturday in the school auditorium beginning at 8:30 p. m. and continuing to 11:30 p. m. Harold Wilson's Band will provide the music.

Paul Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson, 185 Scioto St., and 8th grade student at Ashville, suffered a severe cut over his eye in a sledding accident at Featheringham's Hill Sunday afternoon. He was treated by Dr. Warren Hoffman who estimated that a p.p. approximately 75 stitches were required to close the wound. He is confined to his home indefinitely.

Bread Dollar Shared Less With Farmer

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department study shows the wheat farmer's share of the consumer dollar spent for bread has been cut almost in half since the 1947-49 period. The share was 11 cents last year, compared with 20 cents in the earlier period.

During this same time, the farmers' share of the dollar spent for all foods declined from 50 to 38 cents. Rising processing and distributing costs were largely responsible for this shrinkage.

Generally speaking, farmers got a larger share of the money spent for livestock product foods than for foods made from cereals, fruits and vegetables. For example, last year producers got 56 cents out of every dollar spent for beef, but this was down sharply from the 71 cents received in the 1947-49 period.

The farm share from pork products was 53 cents last year and 69 cents in the earlier period. In the case of butter, the shares were 71 and 75 cents, respectively. For fluid milk it was 43 and 53 cents, for eggs 66 and 72 cents, for cheese 41 and 54 cents, for lamb 48 and 69 cents.

The farmer got a much larger cut from flour than from bread—33 cents in 1961 and 43 cents in 1947-49. In the case of corn flakes, the shares were 10 and 19 cents, respectively.

The apple grower's take was 36 cents out of each dollar, compared with 37 cents in the earlier period. It was 35 cents for oranges, compared with 27 cents in the late 1940s. But the producer portion from potatoes dropped from 49 cents in the earlier period to 27 cents last year.

The farm share for dried beans dipped from 44 to 30 cents, sugar from 40 to 34 cents, vegetable shortening from 44 to 36 cents, cabbage from 28 to 21 cents, roiled oats from 34 to 17 cents, and onions from 44 to 33 cents.

Farm shares of a few items increased during this period, such as salad dressing from 20 to 24 cents, margarine from 31 to 32 cents, grapefruit from 16 to 17 cents and dried prunes from 17 to 44 cents.

Cuban Airlines Pilot Seeks Mexico Asylum

MEXICO CITY (AP)—While fellow crewmen stocked up on goods in the airport drug store, a Cuban Airlines pilot slipped into asylum in Mexico Monday.

Capt. Carlos Cordo Lugo, 45, told the other crewmen that he was going to the washroom, then climbed through a window and requested asylum. Police granted his request.

Earlier in the day the first officer of the Cuban ship Fundador, Gerardo Arrechea Becquer, defected and requested asylum.

Eddie Cantor, Now 70, Says Heart Attack Gives Wisdom

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A reflection at 70 by Eddie Cantor: "Sometimes you almost have to die in order to live."

The famed banjo eyes discovered this 10 years ago when he was stricken by a heart attack. He is still around to talk about it, and other matters, and he did so on the occasion of passing his three-score and ten.

"People in this town die too early. It's terrible. They work, work, work, always meeting deadlines. Pretty soon they become headlines," Eddie said.

"I remember when I had my heart attack 10 years ago. A woman wrote me: 'Cantor, we want to see less of you—longer. That's not a bad idea.'"

It has been 10 years since Eddie pepped up an audience by tapping his palms together, doing his hop skipping dance and singing "If You Knew Suzie." When I called for a post-birthday chat on a rainy day, he gave me the directions to his Beverly Hills house and said, "take your time."

Eddie does. He walks at an easy pace, talks deliberately and takes life as it comes. But the mind is still sharp, and he punctuates his remarks with a flash of the famous eyes.

"I still keep busy," he said. I'm writing a monthly column in the Diner's Club magazine. It's mostly reminiscence of people I have known—Will Rogers, Fanny Brice, W. C. Fields, etc. "Sometimes people ask me,

Officers Question Two Coin Suspects

Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple and Sgt. Turney Ross traveled to Brown County today to question two men apprehended there for possession of 500 half-dollar counterfeit coins.

Several similar "slugs" have been found in Circleville laundromat change machines. Chief Temple said the men may have passed the fake coins here.

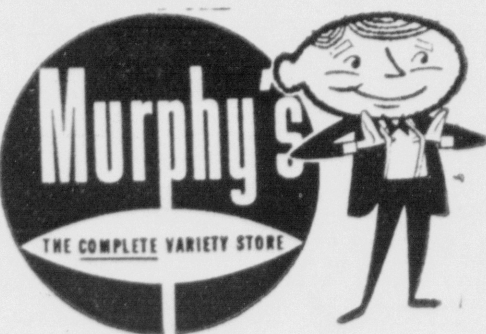

The two suspects are being held at Georgetown. They were apprehended in nearby Richmond.

Deadline Set For Tax Filing

Pickaway County Auditor Marvin H. Rhoades today reminded owners of intangible property that April 30 is the deadline for filing required personal property tax returns.

Individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations engaged in business, and all residents of Ohio owning intangible property such as stocks, bonds and notes are required to file.

All taxes collected from this source are used for local schools, libraries, health, police and fire services.

Personal property tax forms for filing returns and assistance in their preparation may be obtained from Mrs. Rhoades, office.

Child to Hospital

The 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mumaw, 359 E. Corwin St., was rushed to Berger Hospital at 6:35 a. m. today by the Circleville Fire Department emergency ambulance. Firemen said the youngster apparently was suffering from a respiratory infection.

What Stag Magazine Says About Buick's New V-6

This Is the Engine That Is the Biggest Break-Through in Automotive Engineering in 30 Years

"The 1962 Buick Special is the most sensational passenger car to roll out of Detroit in 30 years.

We make this choice on these accounts: Power Plant, Transmission, Braking Ability, Quality of Workmanship, Style, Roadability, Price, and Trade-in-value.

Our choice is not made on any scoring system — by adding up Buick's showing in each category. It is due to Buick Special's combination of characteristics, a combination absolutely not available anywhere else.

What is the road test story? What are performance figures that tell how hot the V-6 actually is as the heart of 1962's Buick Special?

City driving: due to the efficient fuel distribution and large piston areas possible in a V-6 design, the Buick Special put down three competitive cars by 11% on a fuel economy basis.

And on the open highway: Fuel economy 18% higher.

The V-6 is from 140 to 179 pounds lighter than current in-line sixes of comparable power. Despite this lack of weight, the Buick V-6 gives from 22 to 24 per cent better performance from 0 to 60 miles per hour, and from 39 to 43 per cent better in the 50 to 80 mile-per-hour bracket, the range that really counts in turnpike driving.

Remember that V-6 135-horsepower figure!

Apparently possessing full knowledge of this 1962 Buick Special threat, both Ford and Chevrolet are out this year with completely new compact-standard models halfheartedly designed to compete. They are the Ford Fairlane and the Chevy II, both available in a variety of models from four-door sedans to station wagons. They roll on 115.5 and 110 inch wheelbases respectively, against Special's 112 inches. Now hear this: the Fairlane series is powered by an in-line six that musters a mere 101 horsepower, forcing you to a V-8 to beat Special's 135 horsepower V-6, and then only by a scant 8 horsepower. Chevy II? It's little in-line six rates only 120 horsepower.

And neither of these sixes has the economy or performance of V-6. Nor does over-all construction compare with Buick's.

Buick has always been a stand-out in quality and workmanship. And the Buick factory has a reputation for "squeezing its own lemons" rather than letting a certain percentage run their shakedown cruises under the free license of a factory guarantee. As the boss of a leading New York City garage told me, "We just don't have the headaches with Buick."

On roadability, we talked with an official of a leading coast-to-coast car rental agency, whose job is making recommendations on new fleet purchases.

"When it comes to roadability," this car tester went on, "the Special has the comfort of a big car and the control of a sports car. The '62 is even better."

According to my source, "In the Special there was a combination of economy (the V-6), workmanship, and riding comfort that made recommend the car wholeheartedly to my superiors. There will be Buick Specials in our 1962 fleet, you can be sure of that." Test Drive The Buick V-6. See For Yourself. Yates Motor Co. Open Evenings. —ad.
